Bloodborne and Airborne Pathogens Training

Health Department, Denny Room

Paul Coffey, EMT/1, Office of Emergency Medical Services (OEMS), Training Coordinator

OVER

This presentation will include how diseases are transmitted through the air and bodily fluids. Mr. Coffey will also give a short overview in the history of pandemics in America and how the medical community responded (or did not respond). Lastly there will be a demonstration on different types of masks gloves to help workers/volunteers (medical and non-medical) to stay safe in a contaminated environment.

November 19, 2009

7:00-8:30 pm

DMAT training,

Health Department, Denny Room

Frank Friedman, MD

The Disaster Medical Action Team is made up of doctors, nurses and EMTs of all levels. These volunteers are on call to respond to natural and man-made disasters to create a temporary medical facility or augment existing hospitals. The Brookline MRC is pleased to present Dr. Frank Friedman, a member of the Boston DMAT and a Brookline resident. Dr Friedman will talk about his experiences while deployed and discuss how MRC and CERT volunteers might work with DMATs.

December 6, 2009

EDS Exercise with Arlington, Belmont, Newton and Watertown, Time TBA, but likely Noon-4, Brookline High School
